FROM THE EDITOR

2013 is here and the Committee has hit the ground running.

Planning is underway for our heritage tours. This year it has been decided that we will only hold two heritage tours for the year. The first will be on 25 May and the second on 28 September. Details of the first tour are contained later in this newsletter and bookings are now being taken.

We are seeking suggestions and ideas of where YOU would like to visit for our September tour. Don't be shy – please come forward with any ideas.

The Annual General Meeting of the Society is being held in March. A nomination form for committee positions is included in this newsletter. Please consider helping out and joining the committee. We are always looking for people to bring fresh ideas to the Society and would welcome any nominations. The committee are happy to talk to anyone who is interested in any position and provide more details about what is involved.

Our Events Coordinator has been busy organising speakers for this year's meetings. We do still have some spots available so if you know of anyone who would be a good speaker, please let Myrtle know.

Important: Due to works being undertaken at the Ambulance Museum, there is a temporary change of venue for the February meeting.

There are a few spaces on this year's roster so if you are available to help, again please contact me. It is only one meeting per year and having a few people in reserve certainly helps in the event of illness or holidays.

Can you help? Second hand mountain bikes wanted

Ian Wheeler, in one of his many volunteer roles, has discovered that there is a desperate need for mountain bikes to help villagers in Papua New Guinea. Please note however that, because of the rugged terrain, they MUST be mountain bikes and not ordinary push bikes.

If you have an old mountain bike lying around or know of anyone who has or anyone who is wanting to dispose of one, please let Ian know (phone 3396 9923). He will gladly collect the bike and arrange for its transport to New Guinea.

Greetings

Firstly, I would like to wish you all a happy, healthy and exciting new year. I trust that you all had an enjoyable festive seasons and are ready to face the challenges that 2013 has to offer. Let us all pray for world peace, and may justice, love and compassion prevail.

January seems to have gone by too quickly and with February being the shortest month, no doubt it will fly by as well. The name February comes from the latin word "februa", a ceremonial feast of purification held by the Romans centuries ago on 15th February. Later, the early Christians celebrated Candlemas on 2nd February. On that day, candles which were to be burned in the churches during the year, were blessed. Even today, many churches still celebrate Candlemas.

Many famous people were born in February ...

- the American violinist, Fritz Kreisler (1875)
- the Irish writer, James Joyce (1882)
- German composer, Felix Mendelssohn (1809)
- American aviator, Charles Lindbergh (1902)
- Actor and 40th US President, Ronald Reagan (1911)
- English author, Charles Dickens (1812)
- Polish astronomer, Nicolaus Copernicus (1473)
- Polish composer, Frederic Chopin (1810)
- British composer, George Frederick Handel (1685)
- French writer, Victor Hugo (1802) ...

to name just a few.

2013 all marks a significant year for the Wynnum Manly Historical Society, as we celebrate 10 years since our Resource Centre was opened in February 2003. Thanks to Jill Greenhill and all the members past and present who have contributed in some way to keeping the doors open, and to helping the general public with their local history enquiries. The Society relies on the assistance of many faithful volunteers to perform this service, and we are very grateful to you all.

One of the disappointing features of 2012 was that our final bus trip for the year had to be cancelled due to insufficient interest by members. Maybe it was too close to the end of the year and everyone had other celebrations to attend on that day. The committee is keen to get members' feedback regarding the trips and also suggestions for places to visit. This year we have decided to have only two trips, so hopefully, we will get the necessary support. Please ... inundate us with your suggestions. We do not seek to make a profit on these trips however, they must be financially viable. Perhaps members are unaware that bus hire alone is usually in excess of $900.00 per trip, so the price charged per person is fairly reasonable.

I wonder if members have been as keenly following the reports on the identity of the skeleton of the medieval man with curvature of the spine that was discovered recently under a Leicester car park. We now know (through DNA evidence) that it is the body of King Richard III, and must be one of the most important finds of its kind for many years. The mind boggles at the scientific advancements made over recent years that have made this discovery possible.

Richard III's life has invited lots of conjecture over the years, and even Shakespeare painted a less than popular portrait of him in his play. But, was he as bad as he has been painted? Some would say that his poor reputation was based on Tudor propaganda. Who knows. Some of his contemporaries thought highly of his military abilities. Edward IV wrote in 1482 of Richard's "proved skill in military matters and his other virtues". He was certainly an interesting character.

In closing, I would like to say - here's to an interesting and fulfilling year ahead.

Best wishes.

Jan Parnell, President

Welcome back to all members for 2013. The Resource Centre has been opened since early January with the help of our dedicated volunteers. If you have any spare time, mornings between 10am and noon why not drop in and see if you can help too.

- An previous email query . . .

In November we had a query from Anne Morrison of Gympie concerning:

“The Milk Book of Queensland”

with the compliments of C J Carmicheal, Ferndale Dairy, Wynnum North.

John Davies has provided us with the address of C J Carmichael’s daughter address in Maryborough to whom we will be writing.

- A recent query for the “old timers” of the district . . .

Who traded in the building now occupied by the “Gum Sing” Chinese Restaurant in Tingal Road?

- Can you help?

A recent visitor thought that this church was on the foreshore at Lota.

The church was said to be Manly Lota Baptist Church. However the building was is more likely to be in Whites Road.

Does anyone know of its location and when there was an active congregation.

Any information gratefully received!

- A Visitor’s Memories

In the war time his parents lived in an army tent on the foreshore. There were rows of the army tents for those without a house. His mother burnt down their tent.

Where on the foreshore were the rows of army tents that were used as temporary dwellings? Can anyone remember?

Till next time, Jill Greenhill
Librarian

The two names, Heather Roberts and Jean Morrow, are mounted in the garden bed, near the entrance to the new Wynnum State School

Heather Roberts, formerly Smith, married David Roberts and they went as Missionaries to India. On their return they lived on a property through the cutting in Wynnum North Road opposite the site of the original Lytton School. Heather became a Grade 6 teacher at Wynnum North State School. She was interested in Exchange students and often boarded them. She retired, as she turned 60, and died a few weeks later.

Jean Morrow taught Grade 2 at Wynnum North State School and died while still a teacher at the school. The children remembered her as she had very long fingernails and they used to scratch the board. Both teachers were loved and respected by students and parents.

Thank you Nena Robertson for this information.

Where is this seat located?

“St. Oswald.” Name selected for North Church of England

The new church in Prospect Street will be known as St Oswald’s Church of England, Wynnum North.

Because St. Oswald is one of the lesser known Saints, the committee suggested that an outline of his work be published.

Oswald was the son of Edwin, King of Northumbria, who received Christianity into his kingdom. Edwin was defeated and slain and Christianity blotted out in the kingdom. But Oswald fled north to Scotland, and there he was given sanctuary and friendship in monasteries which were off-shoots of St Columba’s Monastery of Iona.

When Oswald received his kingdom in 635 A.D. he sent to Iona for teachers to re-establish Christianity in his kingdom.

As a result, the saintly Aiden was sent, who established a monastic settlement of the Celtic Church on the Island of Lindisfarne, off the coast of Yorkshire. Then he began the work of the conversion of Northumbria.

The Chronicler of the period describes Oswald and Aiden working together, and of the churches rising everywhere in the land.

It was this stream of Celtic Christianity from the north which fused with the stream working upwards from Canterbury (St. Augustine to establish one church for the Anglo Saxon Kingdoms at the Synod of Whitby in 664 A.D., thus leading the way to unity in the realm.

This article appeared in the Wynnum Herald of 16 May 1956. Is anyone able to provide details of the history of St Oswald’s Wynnum North? When did the church open? When was the closure? What became its use after closure? All contributions gratefully received.

Jill

The late Molly HINCHLIFFE

In October 2012, one of our most endearing and beloved members, Molly Hinchliffe, passed away at the age of 91. Her nephew, Gordon Collie, has kindly provided us with the Eulogy he presented at her funeral held at St Pauls on 1 November 2012 to share with the members of the Wynnum Manly Historical Society.

My Aunty Molly is fondly remembered today as a feisty little Scottish lady with whom I shared a couple of common bonds – we were both Hinchliffe family outlaws and both foreigners.

Molly was born Mary Tripney Brown in West Lothian, Scotland in 1921, the youngest of three girls in her family. She trained in accounting, but despite not formally qualifying she worked for the Government and a chartered accountant.

Molly immigrated from Scotland with her young son Leslie arriving in Australia in 1950. Leslie was tragically killed in a motor accident in 1963 at the age of 21.

On arrival in Brisbane she embarked on what was to be a 38 year career with the Wynnum family timber and hardware business Bunney and Son.

Molly used to say she had a very informal interview with the owner Ted Bunney who simply gave her a bundle of invoices to process. Her figure work was good enough to get a job in accounts and she eventually became credit manager.

Could you imagine trying to get a dodgy credit application past Molly?

With her good timber and hardware connections, Molly had her home built at 11 Andrew Street Lota where she lived right up until the last three months.

In 1957 a young jackaroo Ted Hinchliffe came in from the bush and got a job at Bunneys where an office romance bloomed.

Molly and Ted were married in the Lota Presbyterian Church on May 8, 1965.

Ted's love of the outdoors led the couple on their first visit to the Willows Gemfield in central Queensland in 1969. They became regular visitors, buying a shack in 1980 and gradually improving it. In their retirement they would spend six months of the year at the Willows where they made firm lifelong friends all over Australia.

Ted learned to cut gemstones and Molly enjoyed wearing them.

Molly was for many years during her working career a member of the womens service organisation Quota.

She had an enormous circle of friends through her many community activities including the Friends of Lota House, an Anglicare aged facility. Right into her 80s she used to say she enjoyed helping the old people.

Molly kept fit and active with her Line Dancing group up until just before her 90th birthday.

She and Ted were active members of the Wynnum Manly Historical Society and also took a keen interest in politics as members of the National Party, now the LNP.

Just a couple of weeks ago we shared a laugh when she got a letter from the party advising that she was old enough to be entitled to free membership for the rest of her life.

Molly spent her last three months in the Tricare Stafford Heights Nursing Home where she enjoyed a constant stream of visitors, much to the amazement of the staff.

They were really pleased when she got her own phone connected so they didn't have to spend half their life ferrying messages.

Molly was strong and alert right up to the last few days and greatly enjoyed the deluge of cards and good wishes for her 91st birthday earlier this month.

Last week she told me she felt ready to go and join her beloved husband Ted.

Ted has a lovely bush resting spot at Hemmant where we planted one of his favourite desert roses and Molly will be very happy there beside him.

2 WOMEN IN DARING SAFETY BID

45 Escape Fire : Family Wiped Out

One woman leapt 15ft. from a balcony and another climbed 24ft. down a drain-pipe to escape the flames when fire destroyed a two-storey boarding-house at Wynnum Central early yesterday morning.

A third woman, aged 74, and crippled with arthritis, was burnt about the face when she tottered back into the blazing building to rescue her possessions.

The guest-house was occupied by 45 people, including 16 children.

Mrs. Sarah Livingstone, 59, who jumped from the balcony, was taken to hospital suffering from a fractured pelvis and shock.

The woman who escaped by climbing down the drain-pipe was Mrs Amy Curren.

Mrs. Alice Deagan, 74-year-old widow, who was burnt, is the mother of Mr. Joe Deagan, manager of the boarding-house, Ingleston, Charlotte Street, Wynnum Central.

When the fire was first noticed at 2.25 am, Mr. Deagan ran through the house waking the guests. He then went to his mother's bedroom and carried her out to the lawn to safety.

Unnoticed, she tottered back towards her bedroom, until flames blocked her path. Wynnum ambulance bearers treated her for burns and severe shock, and rushed her to the General Hospital.

ALL LOST HEAVILY

All guests lost most of their possessions in the fire, which reduced the house to ashes in 25 minutes.

One, a traveling jeweler, is said to have lost £200 of samples. Another guest, who had £100 stored in a drawer of his dressing table, grabbed the wrong drawer when he rushed from the house, and his money was burnt.

The blaze was watched by a crowd of 300 people, most of them in night attire. At 3.15am, Wynnum Police under Sergeant F N Aspinall, made a tour of neighbouring houses and boarding-houses to arrange temporary accommodation for the homeless guests.

The house was a 2-storey wooden building more than 30 years old.
