MANY HANDS MAKE LIGHT WORK

URGENTLY NEEDED & REMINDER: Volunteers for audio tape transcription

Just a reminder that the Resource Centre has available for free loan to members the audio tapes of past speakers at the Society's meetings. If you have missed any speakers that you really wanted to hear, why not go and see Jill at the Resource Centre and borrow that tape out to listen to at your leisure.

Are there any ex-typists / secretaries out there? We are looking for volunteers to transcribe these audio tapes as well as audio tapes of oral history interviews so that a print copy can be held at the Resource Centre. A transcription machine is available for loan to anyone who can help out. If you can assist, please contact Brian or Jill.

FROM THE PRESIDENT

I hope everyone has put Saturday 4th October into their diary - the date for the Bus trip to Toogoolawah. Elizabeth Delaney from Toogoolawah will be joining us as our guide. Our morning tea stop will be at the Wivenhoe Dam. The Dam has lots of water in it at present and we have chosen a lovely spot in the picnic grounds.

From there we will go on to Cominya, an historic town that has recently been nominated at the most liveable town on the Darling Downs. At Cominya we will visit Bellevue Homestead. John and Laurel Dingle the owners, have managed the estate for the last year. John has a wide knowledge of the district and the settlement of the area. The Homestead also boasts a vineyard with nine varieties of wine.

Our next stop will be Esk. The town has a lot of history which is related to the timber industry. On our arrival at Toogoolawah we will visit St. Andrew's Church which was designed by the well known architect, Robin Dodds and features a shingle roof. After lunch we will head out along the Mt. Beppo Road to Caboonbah Homestead. The Mt. Beppo area was settled by German immigrants and many of the older headstones in the cemetery are written in German. At Caboonbah we will visit the historic homestead. I recently watched the movie "The Deluge" made by local actor and director, Martin Overson. The movie tells the story of the great Brisbane floods of 1893. Henry.P.Somerset, the owner of Caboonbah, saw a wall of water coming down the Stanley River. He attempted to warn Brisbane of the approaching catastrophe. Later, following his efforts, the Somerset Dam was built. It is interesting to note that the Wivenhoe Dam was constructed after the Brisbane floods of 1974 to catch the overflow from the Somerset Dam. Our way home will be via Kilcoy and Woodford arriving in Wynnum at 5pm. I hope to see you all on the trip.

By the time you get this newsletter, the deadline for community submissions for the Wynnum Neighbourhood plan will have closed. The next step will be to consider these changes to the final plan. Let's hope the outcome will be a good one for the area. On our heritage schools, it was heartening to read in the "Wynnum Herald", the comment by the Deputy Premier and Lytton MP, Mr. Lucas, that the buildings of schools earmarked to close would be protected. He also said Wynnum Central School would be ideal for community use.

Another historical and community facility, the Manly Pool, is set to open again on Saturday 20th September. In a recent letter from the Brisbane City Council concerning the future of the Baths, it was stated that a proposal by the leasees to heat the pool was rejected until a review was undertaken in 2009. Let's hope we will be able to enjoy swimming all year round in the near future.

Does anyone have information about the Wynnum School of Arts. I am at present researching the history of the hall for a Wynnum Manly Historical Society function next year. So if you have any photographs of events that took place there or people and groups that used it let me know.

We still need people to help with oral interviews and transcribing tapes. Jill has written a permission sheet to give to people to be interviewed and there are books in the History Resource Room to help with questions to ask. I recently met a lady who had photographs of the old Strand Theatre that she was going to throw out! It is important that our local history is not lost. Your help will be appreciated.

The Connection between Wynnum and Admiral Bligh

One visitor, who came into the Resource Centre, was seeking the history of his mother's house, which is situated on the northern corner of Wynnum North Esplanade and Agnes Street. The house did have whirligigs along the back fence when the toy maker was alive.

This reminded me of some correspondence and research that I completed earlier this year which solved a problem that has been with us for quite a time.

You probably recall that the first landholder in the district Thomas JONES, purchased Portions 57 and 78 at Manly in 1860. The land had a prime view over Moreton Bay and Thomas had a stone summerhouse built there which he called "Wyvernleigh. St John Vianney's Church and school are now located on the site and the stones from the original house are part of the school wall on Oceana Terrace.

Thomas Jones's mother Mary Louisa JONES also bought land in Wynnum, in 1861. Portion 59 of 65 acres, extended from the southern bank of Wynnum Creek, over Agnes, Berrima and Bride Streets and to Tingal Road. Mary Louisa JONES passed the land to Mary Bligh O'CONNELL. The question has been – who is this lady?

Mary Louisa JONES had eight children – none of them named Mary Bligh. Her eldest daughter was named Mary Australia JONES, born in 1825, sister to Thomas who bought the land in Manly. Mary Australia married Captain William Bligh John O'CONNELL, son of Mary O'CONNELL (nee BLIGH), who was the daughter of Admiral BLIGH, of Bounty fame. When Admiral BLIGH was in Australia from 1806 to 1810, as Governor of NSW, he brought Mary, one of his six daughters, to live with him.

So William Bligh John O'CONNELL, grandson of Admiral BLIGH, married Mary Australia JONES in 1844 and their eldest daughter was the elusive Mary Bligh O'CONNELL born in 1850.

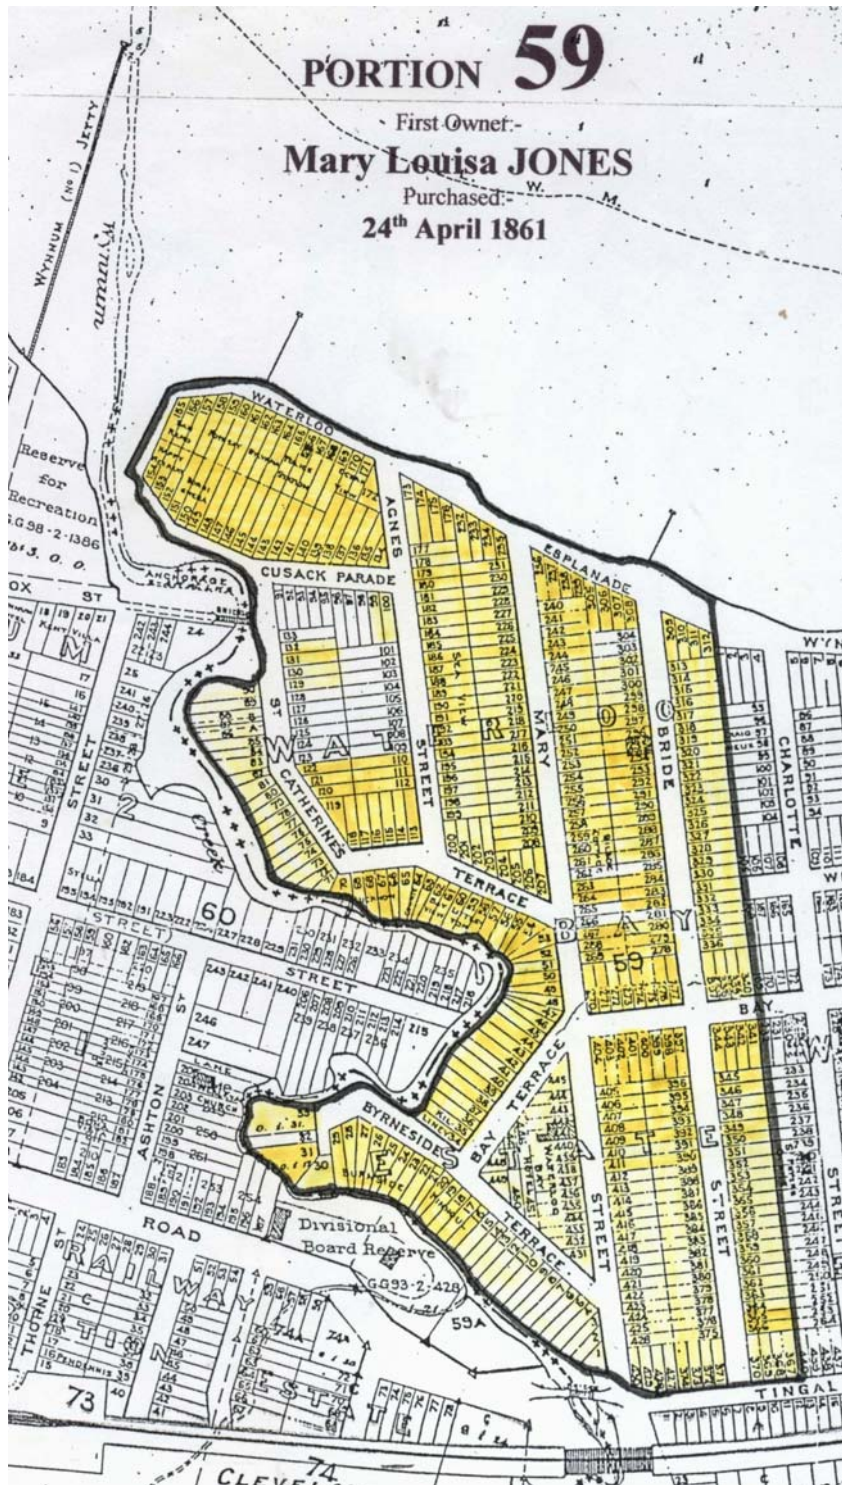

Mary Louisa JONES had purchased the land in Wynnum 1861 and she gave the land to her granddaughter Mary Bligh O'CONNELL in 1864.

Mary Bligh O'CONNELL was born in England on 2 February 1850 and lived in Australia until her family moved to Gloucester, England in 1860. She sold her land at Wynnum in 1885 to James TAYLOR the Mayor of Toowoomba, whereby hangs another story! In 1888 Mary purchased Crewkerne, a residence on Bowen Terrace, at New Farm as an investment property. Mary died in England in 1921 and is buried at St Mary's Church Cemetery at Moreton Pinkney, England.

I received a letter from Bill O'CONNELL. The present-day family did not know that Mary had owned land in Wynnum. They were mystified as to the source of her money to buy Crewkerne in Bowen Terrace. Bill supplied me with details of Crewkerne, I gave him the title deeds for Mary's Wynnum property.

And all of you that live within the boundaries of Portion 59 – there is your contact with Admiral BLIGH

Website of interest

I recently stumbled across this site whilst doing some searching on the National Archives of Australia website. It contains lectures/talks that have been recorded and provided to the National Archives of Australia. You can either listen to the audio of the lecture/talk or you can download a transcript of it.

The talks are varied and the topics consist of politics, war (WW1), and family history to name a few. If you have some spare time, have a look and listen and let me know what you think. I haven't had the time to investigate any further as yet.

The website address is: <http://www.naa.gov.au/whats-on/audio/index.aspx>

Sandy Liddle

I was born just before the Second World War, in a small village in Stirlingshire, Scotland only a few miles from Carron Ironworks, the home of the Cannon that is in our Civic Centre.

Another coincidence is that our Church Elder in Larbert East Church was Mr Kidson who is a descendent of an early Queensland Premier - William Kidson. Queensland must have been "in my stars"!

I am the eldest of four girls (my poor father!) and we had a childhood much the same as children had here. Plenty of outdoor space to play in, little material "toys" so we used our imaginations.

In Britain rationing was the "norm" in my childhood, but nobody felt disadvantaged as everyone was in the same boat, so to speak.

Many of our early activities were connected with the Church and I enjoyed being in the Girl Guides - Scottish Guides were allowed to wear the kilt instead of a skirt.

I especially liked the district competitions because I was a whizz at cutting an H in the turf, rolling the turf back to make our fire and then rolling back the turf, neatly, once the fire was out. We had a Scottish Country Dancing Team and the Church Choirmaster (brave man) put on Operettas with all the Sunday School children taking part. I liked Drama and Singing.

I left school at 15 years despite pleas from my teachers to stay on and go to University. I was the eldest of the family and I wanted to get into the "glamour" of work and an extra thirty shillings a week was going to be a huge help to the family budget.

I ended up working in a local Ironfounder's office - not Carron Ironworks as my father said that " they worked their clerks like slaves and paid them little" - but in Jones and Campbell's Torwood Foundry in Larbert.

The cast iron stoves and ranges had been shipped all over the world and I still have a look to see the brand name on the range if I visit an early homestead!

I married and had a daughter but sadly was widowed when my daughter was two years old. I decided to pick up on my education and obtain qualifications to enter a new Teacher's Training College that had just been built in our main town of Falkirk a few miles away.

As a mature student in the three year's Teacher Training Course I enjoyed myself immensely. I always felt that it was easier for the mature students to "buckle down" to study as they had a definite goal.

In 1974, when Linda was fifteen we came to Queensland. I had a job with the Education Dept. I was given permanent employment and decided to do a degree in Education, part-time, at the University of Queensland. St Lucia as it was known then.

I spent nineteen happy years at Wynnum Central State School. I mainly taught Yr 2 and the Yr 1's liked to think that they would be going into "Mrs McCreadie and Tweetie's (the budgie who spoke with a Scottish accent!) class" the following year. They may forget me but they will all remember Tweetie. He was buried with great ceremony and many tears in the school garden when he passed away at the age of 9 years!

For a time I lived on acreage in the Rochedale/Burbank area - Linda and her horses! When I retired from full time teaching I had a small home Natural Therapy business and did one day a week of Supply Teaching in Bayside Schools.

I never lost contact with Wynnum as many of my clients lived there and I still did my shopping and went to the Library. My parents loved Wynnum when they visited. To them it was like a little seaside town.

When retirement loomed, coming back to Wynnum was the most natural thing to do.
