Where was I? May 2007

On the southern bank of the mouth of Wynnnum Creek. The Plaque commemorates a ceremony on the site in 1998 at which the hurt to the children and families of the stolen generation was acknowledged. A pledge was made to reconciliation and mutual understanding.

What is the significance of the symbols?

Give your answer, and any details, to Jill Ph: 3393 3208 or Email: leslieg@powerup.com.au or deliver to the Resource Centre.

Bombing run over the silky oaks at Wynnnum?

We received an email from a gentleman who lives on the corner of Gordon Pde and Kingsley Tce.

There is a large silky oak tree in the back yard and he has been told that, during WWII, trainee pilots used to line up the tree with the water tower and practice bombing runs.

Has anyone heard of this or remember it happening?

If you have any information, please contact Jill at the Resource Centre.

Resource Centre Report April 2007

A recent enquiry - soil from King (Glenora) Street was moved to fill the land beside the mouth of the Creek and so reduce the steepness of the road.

Was a rail line ever constructed along King Street to take the fish to Wynnnum station?
Any ideas? Thank you.
Jill (3393 3208)
